CHALICE OR CANDLE LIGHTING OR SOUND A CHIME (2 to 3 minutes for this and silence and opening words)

MOMENT OF SILENCE

OPENING WORDS

What is precious is you in others, others in you.

We enter into the being and lives of others, as they do into ours.

Sometimes momentarily.

Sometimes enduringly.

This is what love essentially is, to be part of one another.

In simple sympathy, in close friendship, in shared stories, in sorrow and in joy.”

-Jacob Trapp

TOPIC AND SHARING (up to 70 minutes for readings, questions, a few minutes for reflection and making notes if desired, individual sharing, optional open discussion at the end if the group agrees, with an optional 5 minute break about midway in the session)

READINGS

At times our own light goes out and is rekindled by a spark from another person. Each of us has cause to think with deep gratitude of those who have lighted the flame within us.

-Albert Schweitzer

From a dictionary and thesaurus. Mentor: noun; an experienced and trusted adviser, guide, guru, counselor, consultant, confidant. Mentor: verb; to advise or train. Mentor was the name of the adviser of the young Telemachus in Homer's Odyssey when Odysseus left for the Trojan war.

The greatest good you can do for another is not just to share your riches but to reveal to him his own.

-Benjamin Disraeli

Mentoring brings us together – across generation, class, and often race – in a manner that forces us to acknowledge our interdependence, to appreciate, in Martin Luther King, Jr.'s words, that “we are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied to a single garment of destiny.” In this way, mentoring enables us to participate in the essential but unfinished drama of reinventing community, while reaffirming that there is an important role for each of us in it.

-Marc Freedman

Our greatest joy and our greatest pain comes in our relationships with others.

-Stephen R. Covey
